Foreword

Since March 1938 the Social Security Bulletin has been the official journal for publishing Social Security program statistics and for presenting results from the research program. In recent years, annual indexes of titles and authors have appeared in the December issue. This volume meets a long-felt need to provide readers with a cumulative index to the Bulletin by author, title, and subject. It covers the period 1938-1979. A separate index to the statistical tables published in the Bulletin is also included.

The cumulative content of the Bulletin over the years offers a rich informational resource on Social Security program development. This volume will aid those who study and analyze that history.
